Examinations and assessment

ARTICLE 33 – (1) The tutor of each course or educational study announces, at the beginning of each semester, in printed or electronic format, the examinations, assignments, applications and other work for which the students are responsible along with their ratios in the final grade. In the evaluation of the final grade in a course, a student’s level of success shown in the studies of the course, the average score of her/his examinations and studies of the semester/year (GPA) and the score taken in the semester-final/year-final examination are all considered. In clinical practice, the evaluation report from the clinic and attendance status are also taken into consideration. In-term examinations and other studies may not weigh less than 40% and more than 70% in the final grade. If the course tutor finds it appropriate, s/he can evaluate the assignments, laboratory and such work and quizzes as separate or a single mid-term exam score. However, if one mid-term exam is only given in a semester, it can weigh maximum 40%. The semester-final/year-final examinations are the examinations which are given following the normal educational program and take place in the academic calendar. Except for the courses of project, clinical practice, laboratory courses and such courses for which the relevant board does not deem examinations to be necessary based on their characteristics, all the courses have their semester-final/year-final examinations.

(2) Except for the Faculties which offer year-long education-instruction, Faculties/Conservatory/Vocational Schools do not give re-sit examinations. In the Faculties which offer year-long education, re-sit examinations are given to the students for the courses they failed at the year-final examinations. The students who do not meet the requirements to sit for the year-final examination may not be admitted to take the re-sit examination. The score earned at the re-sit examination counts as the year-final examination score in the calculation of the final grade.

(3) The students who fail such courses which do not require re-sit examinations as laboratory, application, workshop, project, clinical practice and final projects may not have the right to take the re-sit examination.

(4) The students of the Faculties which offer year-long education can only take the re-sit examinations of the courses they enrolled in for their current year.

(5) Re-sit examinations are not given for additional examinations and single course examinations.

(6) Re-sit examinations do not have any excuse examinations. Excuse examinations do not have any make up examinations.

(7) If the students take examinations during the time period they are excused for, those examinations become void.

(8) If necessary, examinations can be given on Saturdays and Sundays, too.

(9) In distant education programs, the contribution of the testing-evaluation activities administered with no on-site observers can be determined, by the decision of the relevant unit board, to an extent of not more than 20%.

Course grades and success status

ARTICLE 39 – (1) As the result of the required examinations and such assessments, the students are given, for each of the courses they have taken, a grade of between zero and one hundred, which is called the raw score. The tutor of a course determines what raw score range corresponds to which letter grade, and the semester-final grades are submitted to the Rectorate as letter grades. All the grade sheets of the students are kept for a period of ten years.

(2) The grades and other symbols are indicated in the table below:

Semester/Year	Course GradeQuotient
AA	4,00
BA	3,50
BB	3,00
CB	2,50
CC	2,00
DC	1,50
DD	1,00
FF	0,00
VF	0,00

b)

Other grades and symbols

- G-Passed
- T-Transfer
- ERA-Erasmus
- E-Incomplete
- R-Repeat course
- K-Failed
- Ç-Withdrawal from course
- AG-Academic Development

(3) What the letter grades and other symbols denote is indicated below:

a)Grade FF: The students who get FF from a course should repeat that course in the first semester/year it is offered. Students can take another elective course in place of the elective course that they should repeat, and they can take some other courses in place of a changed or abolished courses upon the approval of the Department/Program Chair provided that their credits are equal or close, in which case attendance is compulsory for the new course taken.

b) Grade VF is given to the students who are not admitted to take the examination due to failure to fulfill adequate course attendance or the conditions related to the course practices. Those students may not take the semester-final/year-final/re-sit examinations. This grade counts as the grade FF in the calculation of grade average (GPA). The VF course should be taken in the first semester/year it is opened, and attendance is compulsory.

c) Grade E is given to the students who, despite their success in the semester/year, could not complete the required conditions of the course. If a student gets E from a course, s/he should complete her/his work within a period of one month following the announcement of the semester-final/year-final grades and get a grade. The E grades which are not turned into a grade within one month from the last date of announcements of re-sit examinations as indicated in the academic calendar automatically turn to FF.

ç) Letter G is used for the non-grade courses for which exemption examinations are given upon the decision of the relevant administrative board, or for the non-grade courses which are taken and passed, or for the courses which have been taken in other higher education institutions and which do not have their corresponding grades. These courses are added to the sum of credits; however, do not affect the grade average.

d) Symbol T shows intra-University transfers and the transfer courses which the student have previously taken from other higher education institutions and passed and for which course adjustments are made. The grades of such courses are added to the sum of credits and average.

e) Symbol ERA shows the course taken during the Erasmus Program. The grades of such courses are added to the average.

f) Symbol R shows a repeated course. For these courses, the last grade that is taken is considered for the calculation of semester grade average (GPA)/general grade average (CGPA).

g) Grade K is used for the non-grade courses taken from other higher education institutions and for the courses taken at the University, which have no corresponding grades, which have been failed, which are added to the sum of credits but do not affect the grade average.

ğ) Symbol AG shows the courses which the students take outside their programs to increase their skills with no effect on credits and average.

h) Grade Ç is given in case of withdrawals from courses. Even though these courses are displayed in the transcripts, they are not included in the credits and average calculations.

ı) Grade O.K.D. is the grade of the course which is only included in ECTS's but not included in University credits or CGPA/GPA calculations.

Success

ARTICLE 40 – (1) GPA is calculated by the credit hours of each course the student enrolled in for the relevant semester multiplied by the grade coefficients stated in Article 39 all summed up and then divided by the total credit hours of that semester. CGPA is calculated by the credit hours of all the courses the student has enrolled in since the beginning of the program, including the current semester, multiplied by the grade coefficients stated in Article 39 all summed up and then divided by the total of the credit hours. Only the enrolled courses count in the calculation of GPA and CGPA; the courses which could not be taken from previous semesters are not considered. For the repeat courses, only the last final grade taken from that course is considered. While all the courses are shown in the transcript, only the last grade which the student takes for a repeated course is shown in the graduation transcript. In the calculation of averages (GPA's) two digits extend in the fraction. The students with the GPA of at least 2,00 are qualified successful students.
